FICO Announces Preliminary Fiscal Fourth Quarter 2013 Results

SAN JOSE, Calif. – October 14, 2013—FICO (NYSE:FICO), a leading predictive analytics and decision management software company, today announced preliminary results for its fourth fiscal quarter ended September 30, 2013. FICO will release actual results for the fourth quarter after the market closes on October 30, 2013. Fourth quarter results are preliminary, subject to the company’s management completing its customary quarterly closing and review procedures.

Preliminary Fourth Quarter Fiscal 2013 Results

The company anticipates GAAP revenue for its fiscal fourth quarter in the range of $188 million to $190 million, with total fiscal 2013 revenues of $741 million to $743 million, compared to prior annual revenue guidance of $755 million to $765 million.

GAAP EPS for the fourth quarter of fiscal 2013 is expected to be $0.77 to $0.81 per diluted share, and for the full fiscal year to be between $2.47 and $2.51 per share, lower than the full-year GAAP earnings per diluted share guidance of $2.61 to $2.70 per share.

“While our core business remains strong, we continue to experience delays in application license sales to North American banks,” said Will Lansing, chief executive officer. “Our customers are facing uncertainties that have lengthened purchasing decisions and increased the sales cycle for large license transactions.”
